Catherine Vallejo

Women and the "National Project" in Santo Domingo (1875-1885): Difference/Differance

Catherine Vallejo received her Ph.D. in literature from l'Université de Montréal (1991) where she specialized in contemporary Latin-American literature. She has published books and articles on Latin-American short stories from the 20th century. During the last few years she has developed an interest in feminist theories and criticism with respect to Latin-American literature.

Dr. Vallejo has been teaching for a number of years in the Department of Modern Languages and Linguistics at Concordia University.
